

Non-taxable customs value limits for the export of goods, property from the territory of the Republic of Moldova, through international postal items (IPI).

Customs cost - the total value of the goods, information about which the sender, whether or not being a party to a commercial transaction, indicates in the accompanying documentation for the goods or property.

The customs value consists of: the invoice value of the goods, the costs of its transportation / delivery and the amount of the insurance fee, if it was paid, according to the terms of delivery. The determination of the amounts of customs duties, taxes and duties levied is based on the indicator of the customs value of the goods. Therefore, the definition of customs value is clearly controlled and checked by the customs authorities, because an attempt to unreasonably understate its size may lead to serious consequences on the part of the recipient.

Export / dispatch of goods or property by individuals.

Individuals have the right to export from the territory of the Republic of Moldova:

- a) property, regardless of its value, sent through the IPI, without customs clearance and payment of customs payments, provided it is declared in accordance with the established procedure and provided that it is not the subject of the transaction or is intended for commercial or industrial activities;
- b) goods sent by means of IPI that are the subject of a transaction or intended for commercial or industrial activities, the customs value of which does not exceed 100,000 euros, subject to compliance with economic policy measures, payment of customs fees and declaring it in accordance with the established procedure.

Goods intended for commercial or industrial activities with a customs value exceeding EUR 100,000 can be exported in accordance with the established procedure from the territory of the Republic of Moldova only to business entities registered in the State Enterprise "GRP" as business entities.

Export / dispatch by legal entities of goods as samples, as well as souvenir, demonstration and promotional products.

Sending goods, items from the territory of the Republic of Moldova, are not subject to customs clearance and payment of customs payments, if the customs value of the shipment does not exceed 100 euros. These goods should not be subjects of commercial transactions.

Goods that have documentary evidence that they are not subject to a commercial transaction and whose customs value does not exceed 100 euros are not subject to customs clearance.

If the customs value of goods exceeds the specified non-taxable limit, customs payments are calculated on the basis of the customs value of the goods, and this non-taxable limit does not reduce their taxable cost.
